

Countering Human Trafficking

The Palermo Protocol outlines the internationally accepted approach for governments to counter the crime of Trafficking In Persons.

This involves the following strategies often called the 3 P's:-

1. Prevention of trafficking in persons
2. Protection of trafficked persons
3. Punishment of the traffickers.

In most territories it is accepted that the above activities are optimally engaged in through Partnership between State and non-State actors.

Please read through the sections for each of the above strategies for more details.
